Seminar objectives

This seminar is an ideal learning and networking opportunity for elected members and trade unions interested in the delivery of sustainable long term solutions for street-scene and greenspaces, including designing the public realm.

The meeting will provide insights into how others are achieving quality outcomes in managing their local environments through the use of performance management techniques, innovative partnerships and a wide variety of digital technology.

Environmental services are facing multiple challenges in the current climate of austerity. This seminar hopes to provide some answers.

Who should attend?

- Street-scene managers and directors
- Parks and greenspace managers and directors
- Policy and landscape teams
- Elected members, cabinet members and council leaders

The venue
