In the press

- ❖ Housing association fined £1m over death of five-year-old girl
- ❖ Council has been fined £133,333 after a boundary wall that it part-owned collapsed and injured a six-year-old girl, who had to be placed in an induced coma in intensive care due to serious injuries.
- ❖ Council breached Home Standard on fire, asbestos and electrical safety

Human Habitation Act 2018

“The Act came into force on 20 March 2019. The aim of the Act is to help drive up standards in rented homes in both the social and private sectors and provide an alternative means for tenants to seek redress from their landlord if their rented property presents a risk of harm to the health and safety of the occupiers. It does this by empowering tenants to hold their landlord, including registered providers such as housing associations, to account without having to rely on their local authority to do so.”
